

Arctostaphylos 'Sunset'

Sunset Manzanita

Shrub

Sun

Moderate water

Origin: California

This hybrid of A. pajaroensis and A. hookeri forms a dense, mounding shrub to 4 feet tall by 5 feet wide with shiny medium green leaves that are bright copper when young; young twigs are covered with fine white hairs. Mature bark is light brown. During the plant's shedding of old bark, the new bark is a honey brown. Pinkish white flowers appear in spring. Reported to be more resistant to clay soil than other Manzanitas.
